Nuptial selections were provided by Mrs. John McKenna.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of polyester crepe de chine, featuring empire styling with rounded neckline edged with handmade tatting lace, full bishop sleeves cuffed with lace, and overlaid with short lace sleeves. The fitted bodice was of re-embroidered alencon lace. Appliques of alencon lace cascaded in a double row down the front of the gown and bordered the hemline of the dress and chapel-length train.

mother, wore mint green. Orchid corsages completed their ensembles.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. Palms, baskets of yellow roses, daisy poms, baby's breath and English ivy decorated the reception rooms. Gracefully skirted tables, enhanced with flowers and candles, held the refreshments.

The bride's table was centered with a five-tier wedding cake topped with fresh flowers and flanked with silver candelabra. Presiding at the cake table were Mrs. Milton A. Phillips, Jr., and Mrs. James Vairin; and at the punch table, Mrs. Theodore A. Stechmann, Jr., and Mrs. Richard H. Stechmann. It was a great weekend at Buccaneer Park, despite the rain. Saturday our campground was full of enthusiastic campers, among them were Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Roberts of Bay St. Louis; and the M.W. Cooksey and the Harry Garber families of Waveland.

PUPPET'S PERFORM

Friday evening a "Sesame Street" puppet show, in conjunction with our weekly story hour, entertained the little ones. June Dearman of the City-County Public Library brought with her, Les Parker, an experienced 12 year old puppeteer. The children really enjoyed it.

SATURDAY'S ACTIVITIES

Saturday Bill Goodwin of the Hancock County Extension Service conducted an Entomology Program. Slides on all types of insects, both fascinating and disgusting (!) some of the viewers. This was an excellent educational opportunity which was seized by many. Saturday afternoon the rain discouraged most of the campers from insect collecting—but a few diehards, notably Jeff Garber of Waveland, braved the downpour in search of bugs. Saturday night two films from the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission were presented. One was on mourning doves—their life cycle and some hunting tips; and the second was on duck identification and hunting. These films were a welcome change in our program schedule.

SUNDAY PROGRAM TOLD

Sunday morning, our weekly religious service was conducted by Rev. Nathan Barber of the First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis. More prizes donated for the fishing rodeo include cash awards from Haverty's Restaurant and from Waveland Drug Co.; two passes to Marine Life in Gulfport; two passes to Eight Flags in Biloxi; a $25.00 savings bond from Merchant's Bank and Trust, Co., as well as one from Hancock Bank; and equipment from W.A. McDonald's, and Parker's Hardware.

FIRST FISHING RODEO REGISTRATIONS OPEN

On Saturday, May 29 history will be made—come be a part of it!! Buccaneer Park will, for the first time ever, take part in the annual Governor's Youth Fishing Rodeo. Local youths as well as campers are invited to participate. The 5-15 year old age range will be subdivided into three competition categories, 5-8; 9-12; 13-15. Prizes will be awarded to those participants who catch the most fish and the heaviest fish in their category. Surplus prizes will be awarded through a drawing of names of all participants.

Headquarters for the rodeo will be in the first pavilion on the west side of the park. All participants must register at the park before beginning to fish. Registration blanks can be picked up at the Ranger Station or the Camp Store at the park; Brewster's in Waveland; and Sportsman's Paradise in Bay St. Louis. Entry blanks will also be available at the rodeo site.

Registration tables will open at 6 a.m. and the scales will close at 5 p.m. The award ceremony, officiated by Mayor John Longo and Game Warden Pat Toomey, will begin at 6 p.m. Music will be provided during the interim.

Because of the uniqueness of Buccaneer State Park's geographical location, some of the rules of the rodeo have been changed. The two hour time limit has been eradicated; fishing can continue from 6 a.m. until the scales close at 5 p.m. Also, the "no casting" rule has been eliminated. However, the stipulation that no boats be used is still in effect. All fishing must occur from the bank, pier or seawall.

Purchase property under the Property Annuity Plan at Diamondhead, Bay St. Louis.

After you have paid for it, you will own your property free and clear...and you will get back the entire principal amount you paid for the plan.

Sounds almost unbelievable...doesn't it?

But it's true...it's guaranteed...and it's separately assured.

Diamondhead announces its exciting and unique Property Annuity Plan.

Diamondhead, located 58 miles east of New Orleans, is one of the most beautiful residential resort communities in the South.

After visiting Diamondhead a number of times, and making commercials for them, I now own land there myself. It is truly one of the most outstanding and lovely areas I have ever seen.

But even I could hardly believe this latest news.

It's the first of its kind in the industry and here is how it works.

Example:

You purchase a plan at Diamondhead for cash or you may make the required down payment and finance the balance.

After you have paid for your plan, you own your property free and clear, and at the end of the eleventh year and over the next nine years you will receive 1/10th of the plan price annually for a total of the principal amount you paid for the plan.

And here's more good news about this plan.

For each Diamondhead homesite purchased under the Property Annuity Plan, a full single premium has been paid in full by Diamondhead Corporation.

The annuity benefits are underwritten by Loyal American Life Insurance Company, a one billion dollar life insurance in force company.

Remember, the Diamondhead Property Annuity Plan is a limited offer.

So, you see what I mean. The Diamondhead Property Annuity Plan is an unbelievably good idea for families just like yours.

Do yourself a favor. Call 601/255-1212 or write the folks at Diamondhead and receive complete information. Or better still, use this handy coupon for immediate response.

Thank you

KANTCHA KETCHUM

By L.S. (Dec) Elliott

The past weekend's weather was fair for fishing although a little rain was felt. The only draw back was the rising afternoon tides, always bad for fresh water fishing. Hate to harp on this subject but it's true. Tried fresh water fishing in both Black and Mills Bayous. The water was clear at the head of these waterways but the tide rose all evening. Wound up with only 4 bass and two blue gills. When going fresh water fishing, if the tide is rising stay home. There should be a change in the moon this week and that should change the tide. High tides don't effect salt water fishing, and hard crabs. In fact when there is a high and rough tide crabs seem to give best. It also helps shrimping. Shrimp must be coming in a few were caught out front this week. Not big but still shrimp. That is good news for those who like to use a cast net. Speckle trout are still being caught at Half Moon, in the marsh and in Heron Bay.

Speaking of salt water fish Mrs. Hazel Stacey reported catching over a hundred good size crockers and about 4 dozen hard crabs one day last week. A flounder was also in the catch. She said she loves any kind of fishing.

Why do we keep going to the same old mud holes to catch bass and perch when over in Louisiana there are a hundred lakes, bayous and other streams where these fish are plentiful? It might cost a little more but it is worth it. At North and South Shore in Lake Pontchartrain near Slidell both salt and fresh water fish

Point to Bayou Cadet. Shrimp are chummed mostly with dog food. Using a cast net, if you know how, is a lot of fun. The net when thrown properly covers a lot of area. When shrimp are giving quite a number can be gotten in one throw. The seawall will be looking like Canal Street before long at night.

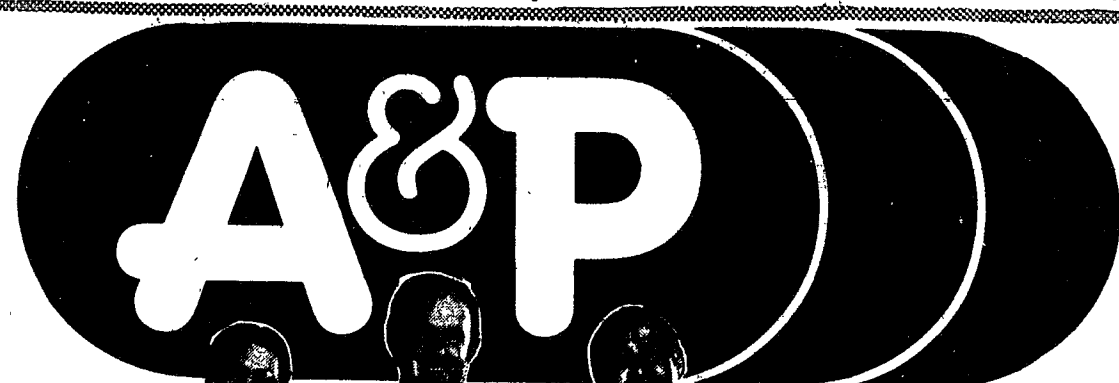

For those who don't know how to clean soft crabs is to remove the dead man under the top shell, at ends, remove the flip on bottom of crab, cut out the eyes and mouth where a sand ball will be found. Fry in corn meal or bread crumbs mixed with black pepper. Put on toasted bread and you have something delightful to eat. Soft crabs can be kept indefinitely if cleaned and frozen.

This week should be a good one for catching soft crabs. The tide is supposed to fall at night. The best time to catch soft crabs is when the moon is right over head. The hard crabs bury in the sand and emerge at this time. Soft crabs will be found just behind the hard shells. They cannot claw you when their claws are soft. Try soft crabbing, it is a night sport for all the whole family. A Coleman lantern is all that is needed to find them. Crabs shed in shallow water 2 to 4 inches. They can be gotten for the rest of the summer. Shedding is how crabs grow. Big ones are also caught in crab traps in deeper water the year round. Small shrimp are now on sale. They are excellent bait for both salt and fresh water fishing. Buy some and put them in the freezer. Have them on hand when you are ready to go fishing. They will keep indefinitely.

are being caught now. Get off of it and try other places if you want to bring home some fish. Try new places. Some of these spots are Little Lake, The Rigolets, Counteff Bayou, Bayou LaCombe, the Atchafalaya Floodway, Lake Salvador, and so forth. But don't forget to get a Louisiana license if you intend to fish in these places.

Another season to end soon, the crayfish season. Pond cray fish almost missed their market this year, wildlife officials say, rainy weather last year coupled with colder weather this year slowed production.

For all seasons that close others come in. Shrimp is the next season coming up. From now on those who use cast nets will be seen catching shrimp off the seawall from Cedar Vigorously working switches, Billy Monti, 13, set computer alignment and distinctly discombobulated the frazzled while working towards promotion inside Sunday Echoes composing room. Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Monti, 329 State St., Bay St. Louis, Monti soon learned to pop switches adding power to presses and rapidly had machines operating in veritable frenzy of motion. Credit was afforded where due when it was later revealed he managed to work whole apparatus up to full speed before walking off job. Presses automatically tripped when paper ran out. Company is now in market for bulk sale of 378,006 surplus Sunday Echoes.

Policy explained - Part II (continued from last week)

We explain the problems of the joust, and hiring of Dewey, Cheatum, and Howe

Editor's Note

Last week we reviewed the Pete-vaughtman family, being featured in our Great American Legend Series (Sunday Echoes) salute to the Bicentennial, and worked our way into the intricacies of the Pet Rock Roll and Joust. Now, as Memorial Day draws nigh, we advance into the cobweb of problems surrounding our rock jazz, and hopefully make entry into the proposed Concert To Grow Plants By (or To).

PART II UNDERWAY

When we concluded Part I, we left our readers agast at the entry of Mr. Pebbles, president of Pebbles, Beach, and Boulder, Inc. into our affairs.

Pebbles as we advised, is the mouthpiece of Ms. Gertrude Charter Member "M" of the National Organization for the Liberation of Female and Indigenous Rocks, NOLFIR.

Addressing us as "Dear Rockheads," CM NOLFIR Gertrude demanded a ruling (immediately) on prefixes to be employed in the registration of rocks to the joust and rocks to the roll.

In part the hag said, "This charter member (CM) is concerned lest at the registration of NOLFIR members, the employment of the designations 'Miss' or 'Mrs.' be utilized instead of the NOLFIR endorsed 'Ms.'"

Further, she said, "A rock is a rock regardless of whatever."

Now while we could not argue with the latter statement, we did take exception to her remarks that "it is beyond the realms of reason to expect our rocks to just lie around between events, or, worse still, be exposed to unlimited handling."

Pebbles added a personal touch by concluding his letter, "If you intend to survive in the competitive world of Rock Rolls you had better smarten up. Remember, he who has rocks in his head should not swim in deep water IDEAS OF MARCH."

By March, the season of Ides, rocks were really flying. We started the month by engaging the services of Dr. Pepper as staff pet rock and rock representative (SPR&RR). Pepper, a crazy sort, brought with him his wife, Peppy, who is soft and cuddly, and now has gathered about him, and by some strange means added to the payroll, his ner-do-well son, Diet, and the two children, Effer and Vescence.

Pepper advised us right off the bat to sue NOLFIR CM Gertrude, so we hired the legal identity of Dewey, Cheatum, and Howe, Ltd., wrote Nullstein and Voidgarten, Independent Insurance Agents of New Orleans, L and A, to lay some covering clauses upon us; thanked Radio's Robert Ruby (R&RR) of WWL, "Nu Orleans," for his recommendations concerning D.C. & H., and N & V, and directed a nasty note to Pebbles.

We also head from a stool pigeon (SP) that Gertrude was not unknown in gravelly circles and that of six months back (from then) she had been seen lying around "in state natural" outside a sleazy joint on Route 807.

MR. DALE MORAN AND FRIEND ACCEPT DELIVERY OF HIS NEW MALIBU CLASSIC FROM TURAN-LANE CHEVROLET REPRESENTATIVE DON COOPER. Mr. Dale Moran of Bay St. Louis had stopped at Turan-Lane Chevrolet and talked to sales representative Don Cooper about the price of a new Malibu Classic. After shopping the Gulfport and Bost areas he could not beat the Turan-Lane

We impressed on Pebbles that this sort of behavior would not impress the 12 rockheads we intended to have unimpelled following the issuance and filing of "D" for Documents by our attorneys.

We also pointed out that, "It is better to have rocked and to have rolled than never to have rocked at all!"

Finally, we added a footnote that a second report had arrived containing the intelligence that NOLFIR CM Gertrude was known in a previous time and place. A second SP had revealed, "I know that Gertrude, she and I were together before the great divide!"

This in itself, we felt, was significant.

IRA MAKES SCENE

By mid-March we were joined in our bid for continuance by a group known as the Indigenous Rocks of America (IRA) - and were informed that just nobody messes around with the IRA!

Represented by G.R. Anite and Q.U. Artz (the AA for stoned rocks), the IRA - with whom nobody messes around - said, in part, "NOLFIR's hevin path has been experiencing an increasing festoonment of American indigenousness rolling rapidly away from their enslavement. Such rockers, as they are affectionately known, are dropping into the offices of our client, the IRA (and nobody messes around with the IRA) to enlist in the only true American rock group."

Rather shockingly Anite and Artz said, "...we feel you had better block your respective faces on the question of NOLFIR CM's Gertrude's statement-S..."

We couldn't help bragging a bit however, when still later the same month we really registered the heaves.

From Hungary came the international entry, The Mineralist of One (pronounced O-w-n); from Great Britain - the Gabbro-Igneous, a rock of some learning if not couth; finally - a pet rock that seems to be nobody's pet, but one that not surprisingly struck up an immediate rapport with our own craggy Dr. Pepper, E.U. Crite!

the family in our recent, current, and future series.

"As the result of all this attention," Ms. L.A. Ura said, "we have had a tourist visit the museum!"

Today, we reveal the three, previously unsung family members, Pawnee Petevaughtman, and JOY, the twins - Pizzicato and Picasso Petevaughtman.

What an exciting time this is!

(Next week we reinact the filing of "D" for Documents)

Peppy zeros in

Dr. Pepper, Sunday Echoes staff pet rock, leans out over counter, center, to impress Linne Cabell, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cabell of Bay St. Louis. Linne was not able to pursue conversation as unbeknown to Pepper, Peppy - his wife, and children, Effer and Vescence, were fast arriving on scene. Young Cabell girl allowed that velocity of Dr. Pepper's travels through air following mid-level hunt from Peppy, surely proved that "Rolling stones gather no moss!" "But they do get lumps," Linne added, thoughtfully.

Our Lady's Academy Summer Festival - Week No. 5

The Most Unusual Wedding

"I knew it, he forgot, he actually forgot about our wedding!" shrieked Kathy.

She grabbed her mother and started shaking her about the room.

Her mother, Mrs. June Fesky, a carefree divorcee, had done a little bit too much celebrating, and was quite out of it. She giggled and hiccuped with such pleasure that Kathy knew that this just wasn't her day.

Kathy Fesky was creeping up on 25 and figured that from this day on she would remain an old maid. She was the steps. She reached the church and peaked in the window. All she saw was a weary organ player, that looked as if she played, "Oh Promise Me," just one more time, she would get sick.

Half the people were asleep, and nobody was sitting in the Minister's chair.

Kathy pinched herself to make sure she wasn't having a nightmare.

At that moment, an old volkswagon pulled up into the church parking lot. The 92 year old Minister jumped out the car holding on to the ex-groom-to-be, Johnny Mac Millan.

Minister Polosky who had always had deep-down emotions of love for Kathy, felt that he couldn't keep them in any longer. He blurted out the things he had always wanted to say. He took her hand as he began, "Kathy, I've always thought we were meant for each other. Even though we have a 67 year spread, it doesn't make any difference, to me if it doesn't to you!"

Kathy felt as if she would faint.

Just then Johnny spoke up, "Hey, what about me! I've always felt a loving bond for your mother, Mrs. Fesky."

Now Kathy felt really dizzy.

Just then, Mrs. Fesky walked out. She had a glassy gaze and a silly smile, and walking on an uneven path toward Kathy. Johnny ran up and took her in his arms.

Gradually Minister Polosky moved Kathy toward the parking lot. He began slowly, "Kathy, I hope you won't think I'm too forward, but will you marry me?"

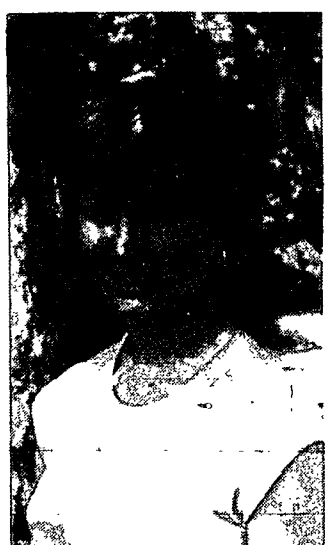

Kathy's voice broke, "Minister Polosky, I would be honored." "Wait a second," said Minister Polosky. "If we're getting married, my name is Richard. O.K.?"

"Richard it is," said Kathy.

Hesitantly Kathy moved toward her mother and Johnny. "How would she break the news to them?" she wondered.

Well, it turned out while Richard was asking Kathy to marry him, Johnny had asked Kathy's mother to marry him.

So the two couples entered the church and had a double ceremony performed by Rabbi Schwartz.

type of woman that dreamed of having 10 children, a career, and a loving husband.

Kathy flung herself across the chaislounge with such self pity that she cried at the thought of herself having given up all hope of having her dream come true. She felt as if she had to talk to someone, anyone who would listen. All she saw was her mother, stoned drunk and slumped in the big lazy boy, with a grin on her face that stretched from ear to ear.

"Where is he?!" she thought. "How could he do this to me? I thought he loved me." She felt as though someone had taken a hundred pound weight and had dropped it on her heart.

Then she remembered, "Oh my gosh, the people, the Minister, everybody is waiting for me."

She yanked up her veil and flew down

A Time of Peace?

by Cheryl Carlson

As Willie Edwards drove the lonely stretch of highway, he realized how fortunate he was to find a job as a truck driver.

It was his first day, and he was very proud. All of his ancestors had been slaves or share croppers.

He could remember his father saying, "You'll have it better than this, Willie. You'll have a chance to make a good life for yourself."

Willie increased his speed as the sky darkened and the moon rose to meet it. His wife would have supper on the table by now, and he hated to keep his family waiting.

Suddenly he heard the roar of a motor behind him. Glancing into his rear view mirror, Willie could just distinguish a 1952 Chevy gaining speed rapidly. As it neared his truck a horn honked loudly.

He pulled over to the side of the road. The people in the car probably needed help. The other car slowed to a halt, and within seconds the three men robed in white were upon him, dragging him from his truck.

Terror gripped Willie as he realized what these men represented. The were members of a group called the Ku Klux Klan, which had spread fear through the South in a trail of murders and bombings.

"Why me? What have I done?"

These questions screamed inside Willie as he was roughly pushed through the fog. With a terrible realization he saw the Alabama River, and the long bridge spanning it.

As the men forced him to the rail, one pulled out a gun.

"This can't be happening," he thought. "Not in these days of equal rights for all."

Cold reality struck Willie as the man with the gun ordered him to jump to his death. He pleaded for his life to no avail.

As he leapt over the rail and the icy current rushed up to meet him, Willie Edwards prayed that his children would grow up to know a time of peace and happiness, in a generation where social prejudice would be no more.

MONDAY, MARCH 22, 1976

Correspondence Corner

Messrs. Dewey, Cheatum, and Howe, Ltd., New Orleans, La.
Attn: Mr. Willie Cheatum

Dear Sir:

We are in receipt of your numerous invoices, expense vouchers, and other even more seemingly unrelated billings. Further, we have received the notice of alliance concerning yourself and Mr. Trillas Howe, in compliance with instruction from your firm's senior member, Mr. Dampier Dewey, to seek another legal opinion. Finally, we note the astonishing idea in your letter to cover this new arrangement, including the filing of an additional secretary, Miss Nices Dewey. It would appear your arrangements to represent us are well in hand, though we fail to understand the necessity of your purchasing four new office chairs when only three new desks, with matching filing cabinets and expensive accessories, have been acquired for the purpose. Do you think you could possibly see your way clear to submit a progress report along with your future billings?

Our readers are being kept abreast of developments in the proposed cases of Dewey, Cheatum and Howe vs. the National Organization for the Liberation of Female and Indigenous Rocks (NOLFIR), D.C. & H. vs. Indigenous Rocks of America (IRA), D.C. & H. vs. Gertrude, plus your proposed filing of "D" for Documents against the progress reports are almost essential. Also, we are a little curious as to what we can expect for our money. We are enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope should this prove to have been the hang-up.

Best personal regards, we think.

Artz (the AA for stoned rocks), the IRA - with whom nobody messes around - said, in part, "NOLFIR's hevn path has been experiencing an increasing festoonment of American indigenousness rolling rapidly away from their ensnarement. Such rockers, as they are affectionately known, are dropping into the offices of our client, the IRA (and nobody messes around with the IRA) to enlist in the only true American rock group."

Rather shockingly Anite and Artz said, "... we feel you had better block your respective faces on the question of NOLFIR CM's Gertrude's statement-..."

We couldn't help bragging a bit however, when still later the same month we really registered the heaves. From Hungary came the international entry, The Mineralist of One (pronounced O-w-n); from Great Britain - the Gabbro-Igneous, a rock of some learning if not couth; finally - a pet rock that seems to be nobody's pet, but one that not surprisingly struck up an immediate rapport with our own craggy Dr. Pepper, E.U. Crite!

The Most Unusual Wedding

"I knew it, he forgot, he actually forgot about our wedding!" shrieked Kathy.

She grabbed her mother and shaking her about the room.

Her mother, Mrs. June Fesky, a carefree divorcee, had done a little bit too much celebrating, and was quite out of it. She giggled and hick-uped with such pleasure that Kathy knew that this just wasn't her day.

Kathy Fesky was creeping up on 25 and figured that from this day on she would remain an old maid. She was the steps. She reached the church and peaked in the window. All she saw was a weary organ player, that looked as if she played, "Oh Promise Me," just one more time, she would get sick.

Half the people were asleep, and nobody was sitting in the Minister's chair.

Kathy pinched herself to make sure she wasn't having a nightmare.

At that moment, an old volkswagon pulled up into the church parking lot. The 92 year old Minister jumped out the car holding on to the ex-groom-to-be, Johnny Mac Millan.

Minister Polosky who had always had deep-down emotions of love for Kathy, felt that he couldn't keep them in any longer. He blurted out the things he had always wanted to say. He took her hand as he began, "Kathy, I've always thought we were meant for each other. Even though we have a 67 year spread, it doesn't make any difference, to me if it doesn't to you!"

Kathy felt as if she would faint. Just then Johnny spoke up, "Hey, what about me! I've always felt a loving bond for your mother, Mrs. Fesky."

Now Kathy felt really dizzy. Just then, Mrs. Fesky walked out. She had a glassy gaze and a silly smile, and walking on an uneven path toward Kathy. Johnny ran up and took her in his arms.

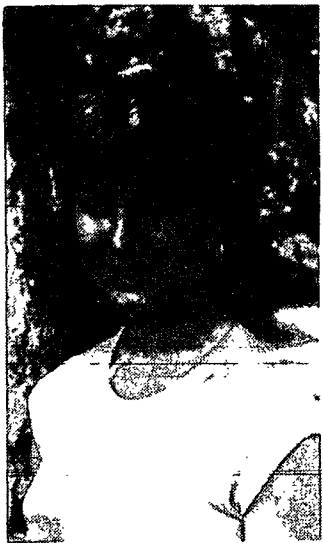

Gradually Minister Polosky moved Kathy toward the parking lot. He began slowly, "Kathy, I hope you won't think I'm too forward, but will you marry me?"

Kathy's voice broke, "Minister Polosky, I would be honored." "Wait a second," said Minister Polosky. "If we're getting married, my name is Richard. O.K.?"

"Richard it is," said Kathy. Hesitantly Kathy moved toward her mother and Johnny. "How would she break the news to them?" she wondered.

Well, it turned out while Richard was asking Kathy to marry him, Johnny had asked Kathy's mother to marry him.

So the two couples entered the church and had a double ceremony performed by Rabbi Schwartz.

type of woman that dreamed of having 10 children, a career, and a loving husband.

Kathy flung herself across the chaiselounge with such self pity that she cried at the thought of herself having given up all hope of having her dream come true. She felt as if she had to talk to someone, anyone who would listen. All she saw was her mother, stoned drunk and slumped in the big lazy boy, with a grin on her face that stretched from ear to ear.

"Where is he?!" she thought. "How could he do this to me? I thought he loved me." She felt as though someone had taken a hundred pound weight and had dropped it on her heart.

Then she remembered, "Oh my gosh, the people, the Minister, everybody is waiting for me."

She yanked up her veil and flew down

A Time of Peace?

by Cheryl Carlson

As Willie Edwards drove the lonely stretch of highway, he realized how fortunate he was to find a job as a truck driver.

It was his first day, and he was very proud. All of his ancestors had been slaves or share croppers.

He could remember his father saying, "You'll have it better than this, Willie. You'll have a chance to make a good life for yourself."

Willie increased his speed as the sky darkened and the moon rose to meet it. His wife would have supper on the table by now, and he hated to keep his family waiting.

Suddenly he heard the roar of a motor behind him. Glancing into his rear view mirror, Willie could just distinguish a 1959 Chevy gaining speed rapidly. As it neared his truck a horn honked loudly.

He pulled over to the side of the road. The people in the car probably needed help. The other car slowed to a halt, and within seconds the three men robed in white were upon him, dragging him from his truck.

Terror gripped Willie as he realized what these men represented. The were members of a group called the Ku Klux Klan, which had spread fear through the South in a trail of murders and bombings.

"Why me? What have I done?" These questions screamed inside Willie as he was roughly pushed through the fog. With a terrible realization he saw the Alabama River, and the long bridge spanning it.

As the men forced him to the rail, one pulled out a gun.

"This can't be happening," he thought. "Not in these days of equal rights for all."

Cold reality struck Willie as the man with the gun ordered him to jump to his death. He pleaded for his life to no avail.

As he leapt over the rail and the icy current rushed up to meet him, Willie Edwards prayed that his children would grow up to know a time of peace and happiness, in a generation where social prejudice would be no more.

Editorial

Series salutes Tricentennial

Due to the overcommercialism attached to this nation's Bicentennial, Sunday Echoes is changing its policy concerning the presentation of our PeteVaughtman series.

Previously known as "Echoes salutes the Bicentennial," a series of great American legends (all previously unsung), the PeteVaughtman works are now being advanced to recognize the nation's 300th anniversary.

While retaining the sub-title of "a series of great American legends (all previously unsung), the principal secondary entitlement of the offering is now, "Echoes salutes the Tricentennial."

Readers maintaining records should amend their scrapbooks accordingly.

Mysterious letters

What is the significance of these letters? What are they for? Where did they come from? What does Hancock County stand to gain by their being here? Where are they now? Are they from outer space? See the answers to these, and many other questions in next week's Sunday Echoes.

Pepper Pot by Dr. Pepper

The publishers of this paper are heading for big trouble. If necessary we will have a Court Order issued to enforce our demands for more space. This column is one of the most important features being carried in Sunday Echoes and we are not being treated with the respect and honors due.

We again state, and this time we know "they" will listen, "A columnist should have an entire column left available for his effort. That, after all, is the name of the game!"

Having settled that matter one more time, let us get into this week's subject, "Why I chose to be a rock for industry instead of languishing my days away on the old rock pile."

This rocking around is serious business. It is doubtful if anything other than a stone or rock can really understand the demands brought about by having to continuously present a solid front to the world. My old pappy used to

We pointed out that zing also zings if correctly applied. Stephanie gave us her famous cold stare, retorting, "That's true! But - zing is only used for a backhand!" Of course, how silly of us not to have known all along.

CONTEST NO. 17 correct solution was the Carroll Avenue facade of Bay Junior High School.

Contest No. 18

"Well, where/what is it?"

"Well, where-what is it?" will portray a different, well known area scene, or article, location or item for each contest. Each will be presented in disguised photographic form, with the complete description being provided upon completion of each contest. Clues, in the form of poetic verse, will be given. Additional lines being added each week the contest location or item remains unsolved.

It takes the "Where" to win as well as the "What"

Mrs. Jewel McCaleb scored first on Contest 17, her letter being selected from pile at random by our substitute chief "contest mail letter-opener" after our chief "contest letter stamper-inner" had completed her duty and flashed the "green light." Our chief "contest mail opener-upper" was busy meddling around with pay checks and just nobody would turn her away from that neat job. Correct answer was Carroll Avenue side of Bay Junior High School. Picture we used was from Echo files and taken when workmen were busy installing new fire escapes. Prior to this time students on second floor or playing around on roof simply jumped out of windows, or off tiles, landed as best as possible, turned left, and sprinted away to safety. Single additional clue to Contest No. 18 has already been entangled into this dialogue. The official Clue No. 1, appears below and in Thursday, June 1. First entries to No. 18 will be opened after all mail stomped on. Good Luck! (-J-)
